SERMON TO THE SOLDIERS.

REV. DR. TALMAGE PREACHES AT THE NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.

He Compares the Hosts of Biblical Times With the Drilled Troops of the Present Day-Danger of Foreign Invasion of the United States.

Dr. Talmage preached yesterday at the National Drill grounds to an audience numbering not less than 15,000 peo ple. The texts were taken from 1 Chronieles, xii, 33: "Fifty thousand which could keep rank;" and Judges, xx, 15: "Every one could sling stones at a hair-breadth and not miss." The preacher breadth and not miss." The preacher said:

Companies of infantry, cavalry, artillery, and sources, please notice the first Scripture passage appliants the soldiers of Zebulun because they were disciplined troops. They may have been inefficient at the start and laughed at by old soldiers because they seemed so clumsy in the line, but it was drill, drill, full, full they could keep step as one men. "Fifty thousand which could keep rank." The second Scripture passage appliades a regiment of slingers in the tribe of Benjamia because they were descripture passage appliades a regiment of slingers in the tribe of Benjamia because they were descripture passage appliades a regiment of slingers in the tribe of Benjamia because they per descriptions and their fingers were thimbs, but they practiced until when they almed at a mark they miways hith. "Every one could sling slones at a hair-breadth and not miss." Both texts combining to show us that if we must fight, we should do it well.

There is something absorbing in the military science of the Bible. In olden times all the men between 29 and 60 years of age were enrolled in the army, and then a kery was made for a special service. There were only in each of a special service. There were only in each of a special service. There were only in each of the plant of a garden and had not reaped the fruit of it; those who were engaged to be married and yet had not led the bride to the altar; those who keep we need they find of the brook upon an enemy but they feel and could not look upon a neemy but they feel and could not look upon a neemy but they feat and could not look upon a neemy but they feat and refer they conditions—the center and right and left wines. The was now of de-

Red and could not look upon blood but they fainted.

The army was in three divisions—the center and right and left wings. The weapons of defense were helmet, shield, breastplate, buckler. The weapons of official was been a superior of the same were award, spear, arow, catapult, which was merely a bow awang by machinery, shooting arrows at wast distances, great arrows, one arrow as large as several men could lift, and ballasts, which was a sling awang by machinery, burling great rocks and large pieces of lead to wast distances. The shields were made of woven willow work with three thicknesses of hide and a loop inside, through which the arm of the warrior might be thrust, and when these soldlers were marching to stack an enemy on the level all these shields touched each other, making a wall moving but impendrable; and then when they attacked a fortress and tried to capture a battlement this shield was lifted over the head so as to resist the falling missiles. The breast, the other falling over the breast, the other falling over the back. At the side of the warrior the two pieces fastened with buttons or clasps.

The bows were so sout and stiff and strong

The spring meeting (fifteenth)of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers begins at 10 o'clock to-morrow morning at Willard Hall. This society was organized April 7, 1880, for the purpose of promoting the arts and sciences connected with engineering and mechanical construction. The meetings are held for social intercourse, the reading and discussion of professional papers, and the circulation of the same for beneficial purposes. It is probably one of the largest associations of the kind in this country.

The rolls show fifteen honorary members, seven life members, 631 active members, seven life members, 631 active members, twenty-seven associates, and thirty-four juniors, making a total membership of 714. Of this number at least three or four hundred are expected to be in attendance. The membership is distributed all over the country. Mr. George H. Babcock, of New York city, is president, Mr. Charles H. Loring, of this city, is one of the vice president; William H. Wiley, of New York city, is secretary. The society will hold sessions daily until the adjournment, on the afternoon of June 3. The Washington members are W. H. Allderdice, Edward L. Dent, W. M. Folger, Alex. Henderson, Herman Hollerith, J. P. S. Lawrence, Chas. H. Loring, Harold P. Norton, George B. Whiting.

The membership comprises largely people connected with the leading railroads, manufacturing places, and also with the engineer department of the United States navy. The gas factories are also well represented.

The opening session begins at 10 a. m., followed by the reports of committees, reading of professional papers, and a discussion of the same. The afternoon will be given up to visiting the public buildings. At night more papers will be read and discussed.

SOCIAL PURITY Strengthening the Hands of its Friends in Europe. Mr. Samuel James Capper, of the Gospel Purity Association of London, and an old correspondent of the London Times, delivered an address on "Social Purity and the White Cross Army" at Metropolitan M. E. Church Friday evening. He said that Christian people should no longer hide their heads like outriches, and refuse to recognize the depravity and misery resulting from the prestitution and degradation of the relation between the sexes, a relation which under the form of marriage is the root of all morality, and all domestic and social virtues. Mr. Capper holds that a great part of the unchastity among men, and the consequent prostitution and degradation among women, results from false views of society on the subject.

He denounced as wicked and cruel the current notion that a different and more lax standard of morality is demanded from men than from woman. He besought all present to rest not while the fallen women walked our streets, but to look in pity upon her since she is somebody's daughter, somebody's stater.

Mr. Capper dwelt with great earnestness upon the demoralization resulting from the state regulation of vice on the continent of Europe, and appealed to his audience to show their sympathy with the federation for the suppression of legalized vice in their tremendous conflict with the powers of evil.

Nothing would so strengthen the hands E. Church Friday evening. He said that their tremendous conflict with the powers of evil.

Nothing would so strengthen the hands of those who have been fighting the battle against the contagious diseases acts in England during the past seventeen years, and who are now engaging in the even more onerous conflict against legalized vice everywhere than to receive sympathy and support from America. Every one who sends his or her name as a member of the federation, and even a single deliar to Aaron M. Powell, 58 Beade street, New York, will enormously strengthen the hands of the friends of purity and virtue in Europe.

THE LOGAN FUND. Capt. Lemon Transfers a Handsom

Sum to the Senator's Widow. Mr. George E. Lemon, general treasurer of the Logan fund, has completed and transmitted to Mrs. Logan a detailed state-ment of the source and respective amounts ment of the source and respective amounts of the subscriptions, as well as the disposition made of the money. All the subscriptions have been paid except one by George W. Murray, of Montreal, of $1,000. The aggregate of the subscriptions paid is $93,094.45. There was one subscription of $2,000, Judge Hilton, of New York, twenty-seven of $1,000 cach, twenty of $500 cach, thirteen of $250 cach, eleven of $200 cach, thirteen of $250 cach, eleven of $200 cach, thirteen of $250 cach, and in smaller amounts down to $1.

In connection with the report Capt. Lemon expresses his appreciation of the hearty assistance from the friends of Geo. Logan, to whose co-operation, he sayes, he is greatly indebted for the success of the "find," and among those specially mentioned is Geo. Thomas T. Eckert, general manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, for the free transmission of dispatches in furtherance of the subscriptions.

control National Republican: Whalever the curious or malicious in other cities may say to the contrary the National Drill is a splendid success in the estimation of all who, by actual observation, have qualified themselves to judge of it. The management has been superb-better than the most hopeful could have anticipated, for not a single blunder has been made. Next to such exceptionally able management, the drill is indebted for its great success—in face of a long line of adverse happenings—to the public spirit displayed by the people of Washington.

But the object of this note is to refer to the future rather than the past. I know that I speak the sentiments of my fellow-citizons when I say to the managers of the National Drill that they should maintain their organization and make the success of this vear the inception of a programme including an annual drill in this capital to be attended by representative arganizations from every state in Union. Such competition will serve purposes of great utility. Congress will not heat ate to give it the national sanction. The regular army officers will give it every encouragement. It will be a mistake if the bill now in motion is not kept rolling on. The National Drill should be a fixed annual event.

He unhestatingly pleaded guilty to all three, and seemed anxious to receive sentence, and this saxiety created suspicion in regard to him. He denied being a professional thief; said that he resided on Fayette street, Baltimore; kept a saloon in that city for fifteen years, and came to this city deliberately to steal. He was sick and needed money to purchase medicine, and after the stealing he returned to the Monumental City. From the man's action one was led to believe he feared being recognized and was guilty of some more serious crime. The court postpoued imposing sentence until next Saturday for the purpose of seeing if further information could not be had concerning the man.
